

MONTHLY MEANDERS

OCTOBER, 2006

PREZ SEZ

Here is my annual plea to you, the members of the Wheeling Wheelmen, to step up and swing your leg over a board seat in addition to your bike seat. There is a nominating form enclosed in this month's newsletter with all the board positions and a blank space to write in yourself or someone you know is interested in running for the position but may be too shy to nominate himself/herself. Please note that this is a form for nominating candidates only. It is not a ballot for voting. Once we have all the candidates slated, we will create a voting ballot for the November newsletter, web site and also have it available at the annual banquet.

There's quite the battle being waged for top mileage on both sides of the tally sheet. I'll bet it makes some interesting conversation after the bakery rides. Can a working stiff pull an upset and unseat the king of saddle sores? Will the weather weenie overcome her fear of frost and surpass the queen of long distance rides. Come to the banquet to find out.

Is it just me or has anyone else noticed the increase in traffic on what used to be our "remote" Illinois roads. It wasn't that long ago that the PITA ride was on lightly traveled streets. Now it looks like Fish Lake Road is going to be one huge housing development, and of course the retailers are sure to follow. Even some of our Wisconsin rides are getting "trafficy", threw that in for you Bets. Let's be careful out there, and remember to set a good example for new members by sliding over to the right when there's a car back.

Does anyone remember the movie "Network"? One of the characters Howard Beale played by Peter Finch is a network newscaster who's going to be fired because his ratings have fallen. He announces that he will commit suicide on his last show. Of course the ratings go through the roof and Howard gets the audience worked into a frenzy with the line "I'm mad as hell, and I'm not going to take it anymore" Last year some of the Tuesday night riders decided they were "mad as hell" when the lack of daylight from mid September thru April eliminated one of the few highlights of a working stiff's week, the Tuesday night express ride. So they decided not to "take it anymore" and started the Tuesday night garage ride. So each Tuesday night several members bring their bikes and trainers to one of the designated member's garage and put in about 1 1/2 hour training ride to one of the many training videos available. Check the ride line, newsletter, and web site for more details or send an email to wheeling@wheelmen.com.

Thank you to everyone who worked on the Harmon Hundred this year. We had a couple of major battles to fight, parking and weather, and everyone handled both with good spirits. Special thanks to MaryKay for orchestrating this enormous undertaking. You are the "Maestro".

Thanks for listening.
See you on the road

RIDES OF A DIFFERENT FLAVOR

The bike paths/trails on the October schedule include some with packed crushed limestone surfaces. I generally use my hybrid bike on these trails but many are smooth, hard and well maintained and suitable for narrow tired road or touring bikes. At worst one may have to dismount and walk across an area where there has been water erosion or the surface isn't packed because of fresh repairs. These are rated ***, approved for narrow tires although narrow tires lose the advantage that they have on smooth pavement. Other trails where rougher, less packed surfaces are more likely to be encountered are rated **, wide tires recommended. The less developed trails or those where the condition is not known are rated *, wide tires required. Let me emphasize that all trails are well developed, no off road conditions. Of course road bikes are well suited for paved trails.

WE GET MAIL.....

August 31, 2006

This months "Prez Sez" section hit a raw nerve, particularly the final section that discussed cyclists rights and the care and respect that must be shown to riders. A couple weekends ago, I went on my very first Wheelmen club ride as a member. I was (and I'm being kind here) pissed off to see some of the advanced riders riding four abreast along Long Grove Rd. A motorist who happened along, simply could not proceed with this sort of irresponsible cycling underway. Fortunately, the motorist seemed to be a very patient person. If it were me behind the wheel, I can't guarantee there wouldn't be tire marks on the backs of several members. Needless to say, I was not impressed. A cycling club as big as the Wheeling Wheelmen should know better. I sincerely hope, for the safety of all of us, the content of my note is shared.

John Canger, #1555

Hello John,

The Wheeling Wheelmen Bicycle Club DOES NOT condone riding 4 abreast or impeding traffic in any way except as defined in the Illinois Vehicle Code.

In fact, if you were riding in that pack of riders I'm sure you heard frequent calls of 'Car Back' warning cyclists to move over out of traffic.

However, as you noted, not all riders comply. On many of our club rides the ride hosts recite the common rules of the road before the ride starts. During the rides many members shout 'Car Back' until they are blue-in-the-face yet often some riders do not move to the right. I will pass your message on to the club president and the newsletter editor so that it can be shared as you offered. Much like the American Automobile Association does all it can to promote safe motoring it also can't guarantee compliance on the part of all its members. All we can do is hope that our efforts will do some good. As Rich stated in his 'Prez Sez' article:

"The bottom line is we need to be as friendly and non-antagonistic as possible with the cars and trucks we share the roads with."

Thank you for your input.

“The Other Side of the Tracks Ride”

by

Tom Mulick with Lee Skinner

Does it rain on the other side of the tracks?

Well, the night before the ride it seemed to rain without stopping. As the time approached to decide, my lift, Lee Skinner (a new club member) called to ask whether I was still going. I said “Yes, but I wasn’t going to ride.”

No contradiction here. I don’t ride in the rain unless I have to. And I had taken one more look at the radar on the Weather Channel Online: the big green and yellow blob seemed to be moving very slowly to the east but possibly clearing within an hour.

On the drive there, rain was pelting the windshield, but we decided we would at least go to the starting point. As we approached we saw two cars in the parking lot. It was Meg and Kilian. As we sat in our respective cars talking through the open windows, another car came: Pam.

For the next twenty minutes or so, we talked about various things, including whether to head out or not. But by about ten minutes to nine, the rain had subsided. And we could see the sky begin to lighten, with even a few patches of blue starting to break through. After some final discussion, we all unloaded and prepared our bikes.

By the time we threaded our way around some deep puddles to exit the gravel parking lot, the rain had left. But the roadway was wet. Being careful not to ride in the spray from the rear tire of the rider in front, we fully committed to the ride.

Our hats are off to Pam Burke and Meg Ewen. With this ride they created another winner. The route took us over some old, familiar roads but included some really picturesque new ones. Some of these new roads would be nice to visit again with a camera.

At various times we commented on the accuracy of the mile markers on the route sheet. In fact, at the rest stop, which was marked “22.0,” Kilian’s computer read “22.00”

As we finished the ride and returned to the parking lot, the skies looked threatening again. But we were more than satisfied that we had made the ride: it had been well worth taking our chances.

Pam and Meg did a great job in this new ride, and we encourage everyone to try it. We think you will travel “the other side of the tracks” more than a single time.

Bike Tips of the Month

Lube the Chain Before It Squeaks

Squeaking sounds when you’re pedaling indicate unnecessary wear and tear on your drive train and the noise almost always comes from a dry chain. If you look at the chain and see bright, shiny links, you’ve waited too long to add lube. Always try to keep a thin film of lube on the chain and you’ll prevent rust, squeaks, poor shifting and premature drive train wear

Get and Carry a Simple Repair Kit

Don’t make the mistake of riding without a simple repair kit. You need a pump that attaches to your bike and a small seat bag you can strap beneath the seat. In this bag, put a spare tube (same size as what’s on your bike), tire levers (use them to remove the tire), patch kit (in case you get two flats), and a mini bike tool and perhaps some cash, just in case. Even if you don’t know how to use the stuff, the kit can come in handy because a cyclist might come along and help you out (other cyclists love to lend a helping hand)
